EXTRACTS FROM PUNCH. A WORD TO THE WEAKER VESSEL -- A lady who obstroately persists in wearing hoops, ought not to complain of being ridicaled. If expect to be treated as a butt. A RIVALRY WORTHY OF BEING NOTED -Two at cheap tailors are equilating the musical rivil-ries of Dussek and Woelfl. Their rivalry runs upon serrants, liveries. One has an nounced bis Knee Plus Ultra, whilst the other goes beyond him by bringing out his I do of Plush! Citral The first leaves off merely at I do of the knee- whilet the second goes down to your very sole and all for the same money! Certificates of Package 26 Wholes

The various servants! halls of this large me. Do do 26 Halves tropolis, so rich in flunkeydom, are ringing Do do 26 Quarters loud with the praises of the two compositions and the richess and settness of both are loudly extolled by the Jeamses and Jenkinses who have tried them on.

HABITS OF BEALTHY EXERCISE. If a young lady is unable to sport a riding habit, she should adopt a walking habit. A PERILOUS PUSITION .-- A lady swooned the other day beforeone of the horrible Cawapore pictures in the Royal Academy. Owing to the preposterous circumference of her dress, it was found impossible to approach within several yards of her. It was apprehended at one time that she would perish within sight of several hundred sympathizing bystanders, owing to the difficulty of conveying assistance to her; and it was not before the greater part of her skirt (more than sufficient, we are informed, to fill with the flounces and trimmings, three good-sized wheelbarrows,) had been ruthlessly cut away, that restoratives could be administered to ber. One June 26th. 1858. minute more delay, and the case might have been fatal!

GENTLEMEN'S FASHIONS -- We see our swells are partly turning their backs upon the allround collars, that for so many months past have turned their heads-that is to say, granting the possibility of any one who was immured inside one of those linen fastnesses being able to turn his head at all. Our handsome young swells-the darling pets of old match-making Dowagers, and the cherished proteges of all lady patronesses who have marriageable daughters -- are now devoting their cultivated minds to a new kind of collar. The present lawn enclosure is by no of a neck-kerchief. Sometimes the shoe-tie is run through a handsome ring and the ends allowed to dangle elegantly in front. The effect is especially light and airy.

One or two swells, anxious to distinguish themselves, bave their initials, or their crests, engraved on this same ring, somewhat in the ship chalked in white thread on the broad cushion of their breasts. The plan, though in a trifling degree redolent of the tincture of vacity, is not without its uses, as it is evident that if any swell were at any time to lose or forget himself (as for instance, in a dangerone flirtation with an Irish widow, or, still worse, in making love to a dowerless beauty) he might be easily identified by the help of his signet-ring, and carried away immediately, before be had committed unjustifiable swellicide, to some place of safety.

However, we must beg to protest against the custom, that certain poetical sentimental young gentlemen of a Byronic tie and tendency are anxious to make popular, of having the name of their lady-love engraved on this same ring. It is too fantastic, and conceited and ungallant, to meet with our approving fiat. For instance, what right has an over-grown boy, like a juvenile Paul Bedford, to tell every one whose eves happen to settle on his naked throat, that the name of the young lady, who is the temporary tenant of his bosom, is Zephyrina? We wonder how Zephyrina likes to have everyone ringing her name in this way in every divan and billiard-100m all over town?

The new style, however, of doubling over the collar, and leaving the neck barely covered, gives us hopes that our glorious young swells are fast returning to the habits of their youth, and we may shortly expect to see a small squadron of them sailing down Pall Mall in short jackete, and large laydown collars, falling, like elephant's ears, over their shoulders. The fashion of trowsers improves, if anything, in ridicule. The latest attempt has been an endeavor to imitate the hour-glass -full even to bagging over the thigh, squeezed in tight about the knee, and rounded to a corresponding amount of bagginess over the calf. The effect is most supremely ridiculous; and as we suppose that is the effect des'red, these new trowsers must be pronounced a great success, that is no less loud than it is genuine. Henceforth, peg-tops are split.

Umbrellas continue the same. The great point seems to be to get one long and light as a supbeam. It requires six to equal the thickness of a common area railing, and they average about the same length .-- Our Own Dear Jenkins.

A DERIVATION AND AN ILLUSTRATION .-- The telegram is so called from two Greek works, afar off, and writing; and is so called from what is written being so often far off the meaning. Example:-

What is writen-"The 24th regiment was cut up at Azimghur." What is meant -"The 24th regiment was shut up at Azimghur."

AN ORNAMENT TO SOCIETY. The conduct of certain youngsters who consider that they alone have a right to talk in company, reminds me of the awful satire of Charles Lamb upon a "pompious" young are in the English pavy, who mainly monopolized the conversation at a hospitable table of a friend in Camden-town, where Lamb was an honored guest. "That is a most extraordinary circumstance you mention," said Lamb, "I wonder he had not immediately ceased to exist." "Ob, no, no, not all; a mere bullet wound, don't you see; but a bal!-a cannon-ball, don't you observe, is a different respectfully informs the citizens of this place, bul," (478 gunship, ye know,) there was a sai- where he will be pleased to receive orders aw who mounted the swawouds-a ball came and took off his ands and arms.
